I'm learning to love well, run well and read well. I'm married to Xylon - a man who talks non-stop about cycling - and makes me laugh. I write for anyone who has ever held a loved one's hand through illness, or believed in God despite hard circumstances or ever left on a spontaneous 2-week holiday through a foreign land with just a backpack.

“There is deliverance in the music, there is healing in the music, there is love—there is love—in the music.” Tiffany Thomas had reached a crescendo. As the twenty-nine-year-old pastor concluded her riveting and rhythmic testimony about how the hymns of the black church drew her to Jesus, the nine hundred people crammed into Saint Mark’s Cathedral in Minneapolis rose to their feet ...
